

EDGE

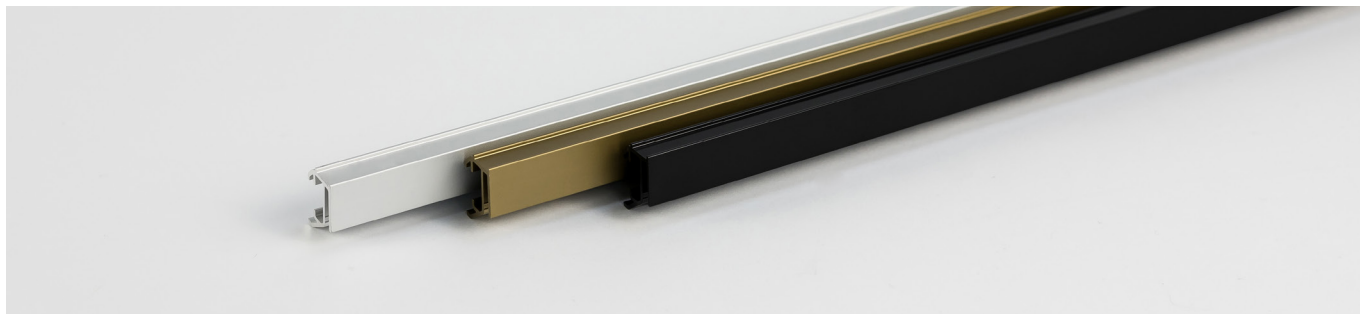

Edge, is an innovative new profile solution, protected by a design right, that provides linear lighting for plinth boards and true-handless channels. Unlike conventional profiles that have a base and a cover, Edge, has a U-shaped channel that allows the Razor X or Razor X Pro strips to simply push in.

This feature streamlines the installation process, especially for systems with corners, as well as maximising the light output. Transportation and packaging logistics have also been carefully considered during the design process and instead of selling long lengths which are difficult to ship and prone to damage, the profile is available in 1-meter lengths that connect with a locking mechanism.
